

Forever ends in the Fall

Written and illustrated
by Charlie Pegg

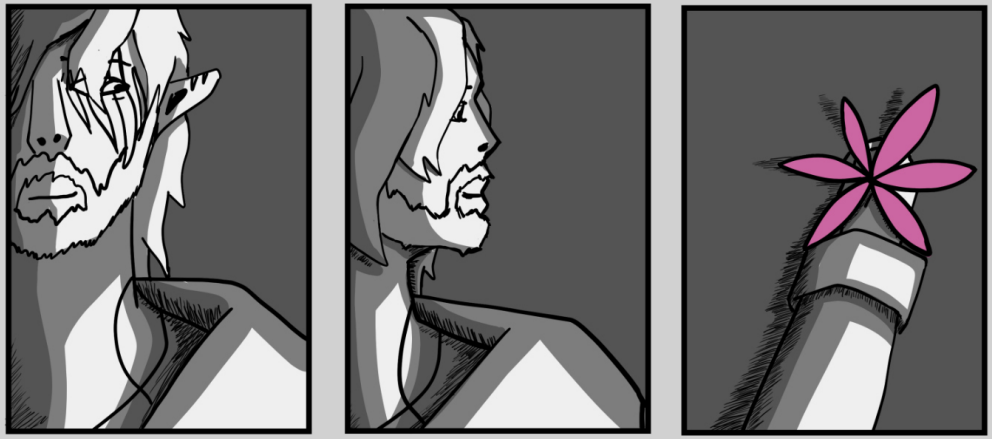

Thanks to my friends, who helped me bring life to this character

My forever began in the winter.
On a frostbitten night in 1815,
I tried dying again,
But I was saved again
By one
Jean du Roux.

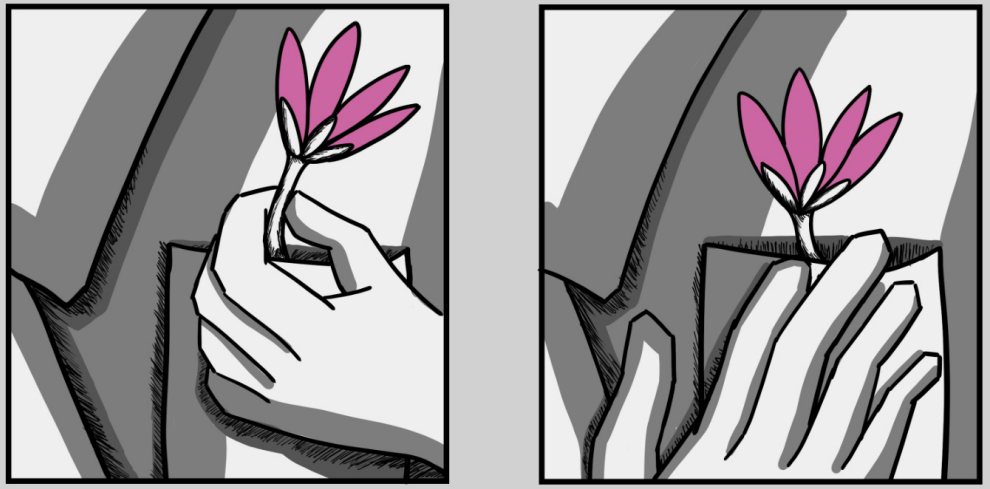

In the Spring of 1816, I found myself in the woods nightly.
I would spend forever visiting the only one who cared for me.
And recognizing feelings I didn't know I had,
Jean du Roux made the mistake to love me back.

Having become a creature of the night,

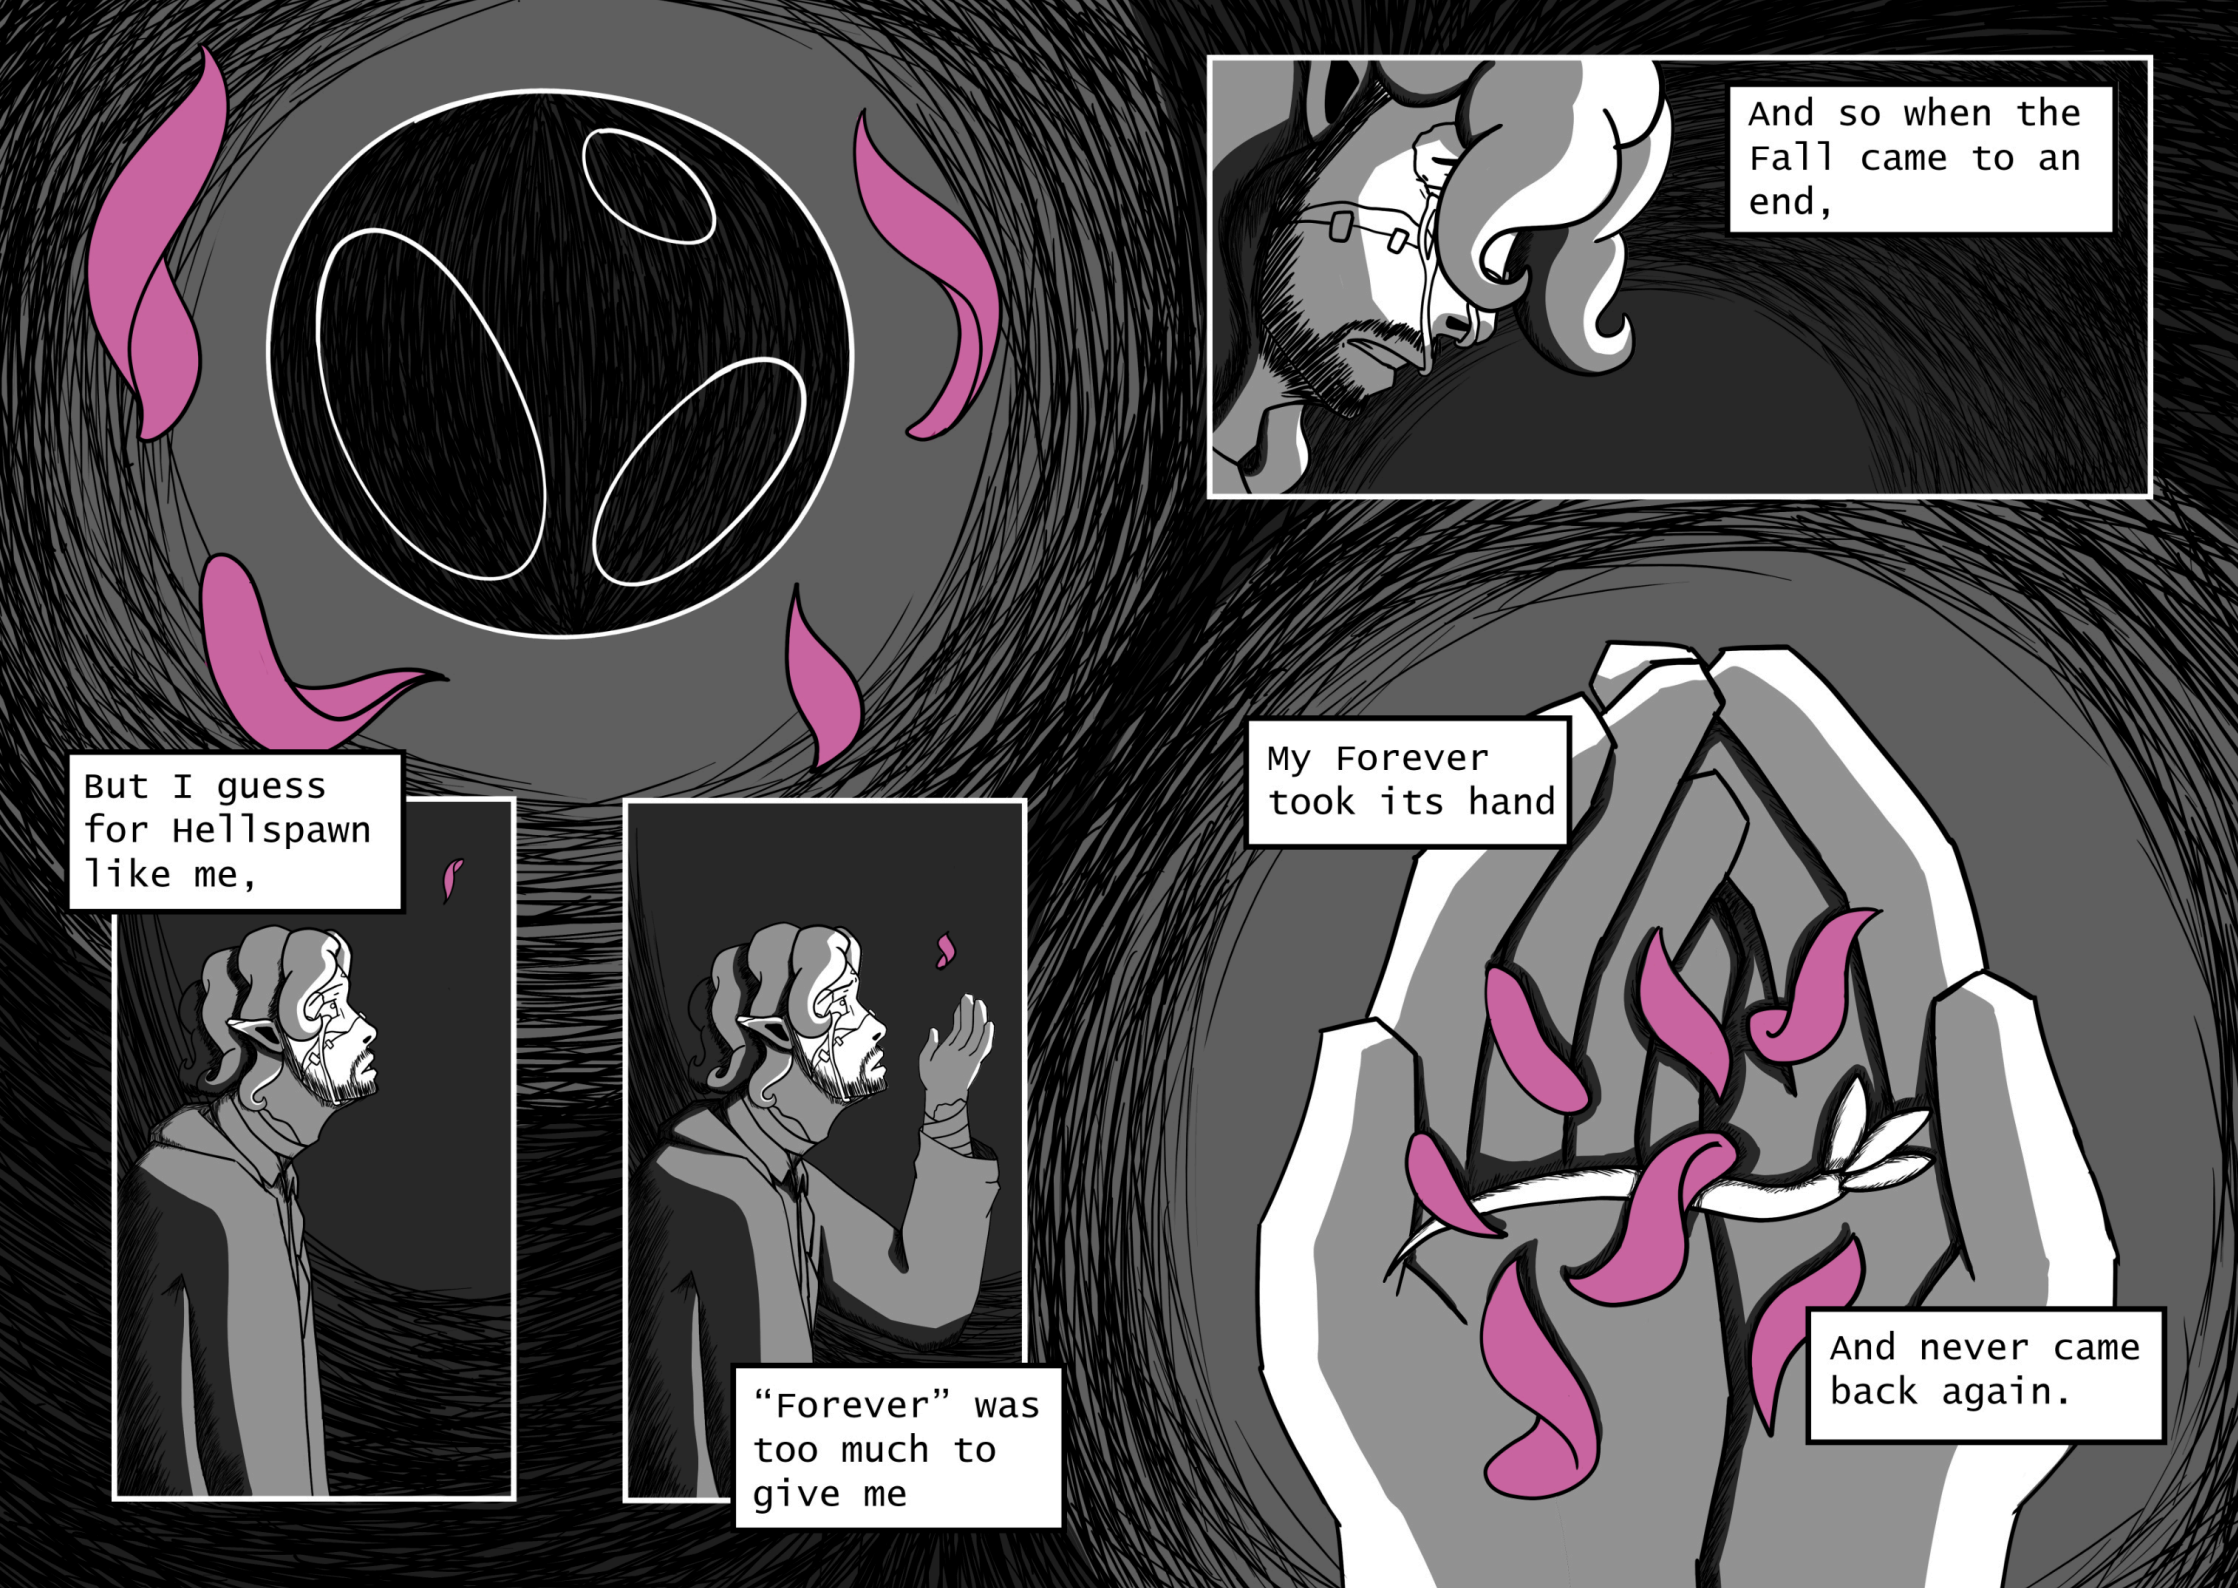

I had only one wish in my mind,

“I want nothing more than to stay here forever.”

And so when the Fall came to an end,
My Forever took its hand
And never came back again.
But I guess for Hellspawn like me,
“Forever” was too much to give me
